Android troubleshooting:

Make sure you have a strong WiFi or data connection. If the phone doesn't have a data signal see if there is a secure WiFi signal available.

The CWA Movement Builder App is only available for Android 4.0 or later.

Phones that came out since late 2011 will have compatible operating systems. Operating System version can be found in Settings > About Device. Please check Settings > About Device > Software Updates to find operating system updates.

Operating system updates will require a WiFi connection.

Google passwords may be required to download apps. Remind the user that the password should be the same as their Gmail password, if they have one.

Hints and tips

The app may download faster if you use WiFi but in some cases a free, public WiFi network may be congested and be a worse option than using the 3G or LTE data plan. If the phone is using WiFi and is having connection problems, turn the WiFi off and try again.
