

Joey McCarty is president of CWA Local 3372 in Lexington, Kentucky. The outdoors and hunting are very important to him. So is working to make sure Barack Obama is our next President.

Here's what McCarty says:

"I am an avid outdoorsman and I will be voting for Barack Obama for president. The right to bear arms is basic and fundamental to the American culture and Barack Obama fully supports this important right. Opponents are trying to use scare tactics and lies to divert our attention from the real issues of jobs and health care.

Don't fall for this scare tactic. Barack Obama stands up for working people and he will protect our right to keep and bear arms."

BARACK OBAMA SUPPORTS GUN RIGHTS

Obama Says Americans Have the Constitutional Right to Bear Arms:

"I believe in the 2nd Amendment, and if you are a law-abiding gun owner you have nothing to fear from an Obama administration."
(Chicagotribune.com, Sept. 6, 2008)

Obama Supports the Rights and Traditions of Sportsmen:

I am very mindful of the fact that sportsmen in America may have gone hunting with their fathers, their grandfathers, their mothers, their grandmothers, and that this is part of a tradition and a way of life that has to be preserved. (FieldandStream.com, Sept. 17, 2008)

He supports incentives for farmers and ranchers who voluntarily open their land to hunting, fishing and other wildlife-related activities.

Obama Opposes the Confiscation of Guns:

"People have the right to lawfully bear arms."
(news conference, Watertown, S.D., May 16, 2008)

He voted against permitting the federal government to confiscate legally acquired firearms.
